Harmon Releases Audit of Ballard County Sheriff's Fee Account

FRANKFORT, Ky. – State Auditor Mike Harmon today released the audit of the 2022 financial statement of Ballard County Sheriff Ronnie Giles. State law requires the auditor to annually audit the accounts of each county sheriff. In compliance with this law, the auditor issues two sheriff's reports each year: one reporting on the audit of the sheriff's tax account, and the other reporting on the audit of the fee account used to operate the office.

Auditing standards require the auditor's letter to communicate whether the financial statement presents fairly the receipts, disbursements and excess fees of the Ballard County Sheriff in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The sheriff's financial statement did not follow this format. However, the sheriff's financial statement is fairly presented in conformity with the regulatory basis of accounting, which is an acceptable reporting methodology. This reporting methodology is followed for all 120 sheriff audits in Kentucky.

As part of the audit process, the auditor must comment on noncompliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The auditor must also comment on material weaknesses involving the internal control over financial operations and reporting.

The audit contains the following finding:

The Ballard County Sheriff's Office lacks adequate segregation of duties: This is a repeat finding that was included in the prior year audit report as Finding 2021-001. The Ballard County Sheriff's Office does not have adequate segregation of duties. The same employee is responsible for collecting cash, preparing deposits, writing checks, posting to ledgers, performing monthly bank reconciliations, and preparing financial reports. Any compensating controls performed are not documented. According to staff, the sheriff's office hired an additional employee to help with the segregation of duties, however, there is not adequate documentation of review. A lack of segregation of duties increases the risk of errors occurring and not being detected or corrected in a timely manner which could lead to inaccurate financial reporting to external agencies such as the Department for Local Government (DLG).

Segregation of duties or the implementation of compensating controls, when limited by the number of staff, is essential for providing protection against the misappropriation of assets and inaccurate financial reporting. Additionally, proper segregation of duties protects employees in the normal course of performing their daily responsibilities. A good internal control system consists of requiring certain accounting functions to be performed by different employees to provide reasonable assurance the financial activity is properly accounted for and accurately reported.

We recommend the sheriff separate the duties involving custody of cash, recording of transactions, and authorization of transactions. If this is not feasible due to a limited number of staff, we recommend the sheriff implement compensating controls to minimize the risk associated with a lack of segregation of duties. Compensating controls performed should be documented by the reviewer's initials and date.

Sheriff's Response: Due to being a small department, this will probably always be an issue. We will provide more written documentation of the checks and balances in the office.

The sheriff's responsibilities include collecting property taxes, providing law enforcement and performing services for the county fiscal court and courts of justice. The sheriff's office is funded through statutory commissions and fees collected in conjunction with these duties.
