Harmon Releases Audit of Marion County Sheriff's Office

FRANKFORT, Ky. – State Auditor Mike Harmon today released the audit of the 2015 financial statement of Marion County Sheriff Jimmy Clements. State law requires the auditor to annually audit the accounts of each county sheriff. In compliance with this law, the auditor issues two sheriff's reports each year: one reporting on the audit of the sheriff's tax account, and the other reporting on the audit of the fee account used to operate the office.

Auditing standards require the auditor's letter to communicate whether the financial statement presents fairly the receipts, disbursements, and excess fees of the Marion County Sheriff in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The sheriff's financial statement did not follow this format. However, the sheriff's financial statement is fairly presented in conformity with the regulatory basis of accounting, which is an acceptable reporting methodology. This reporting methodology is followed for all 120 sheriff audits in Kentucky.

As part of the audit process, the auditor must comment on non-compliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The auditor must also comment on material weaknesses involving the internal control over financial operations and reporting.

The audit contains the following comments:

The sheriff's office lacks adequate segregation of duties. The sheriff's bookkeeper, along with another employee, collect payments from customers and prepares receipts. The bookkeeper is also responsible for preparing deposits and posting receipts to the receipts ledger. The bookkeeper also prepares disbursement checks, payroll checks, monthly reports, and the monthly bank reconciliations. There was not sufficient evidence available that showed the sheriff or another employee periodically reviews deposits, ledgers, monthly reports, or the bank reconciliations to offset the risk caused by the lack of segregation of duties.

The sheriff has not addressed the increased risk of having one person responsible for so many accounting functions without sufficient oversight.

A lack of oversight could result in undetected misappropriation of assets and inaccurate financial reporting to external agencies such as the Department for Local Government.

The segregation of duties over various accounting functions such as preparing deposits, recording receipts and disbursements, and preparing monthly reports, or the implementation of compensating controls is essential for providing protection from asset misappropriation and inaccurate financial reporting. Additionally, proper segregation of duties protects employees in the normal course of performing their daily responsibilities.

To adequately protect employees in the normal course of performing their duties, and prevent inaccurate financial reporting or misappropriation of assets, we are recommending the sheriff implement strong oversight over these areas, either by an employee independent of those functions or by the sheriff, such as:

- The sheriff should periodically compare a daily bank deposit to the daily checkout sheet and then compare the daily cash settlement sheet to the receipts ledger. Any differences should be reconciled. The sheriff could document this by initialing the settlement sheet, daily deposit, and receipts ledger.
- The sheriff should compare supporting documentation to payments. The sheriff could document this by initialing the supporting documentation.
- The sheriff should compare the bank reconciliation to the balance in the checkbook. Any differences should be reconciled. The sheriff could document this by initialing the bank reconciliation.

Sheriff's response: None.

The sheriff's responsibilities include collecting property taxes, providing law enforcement and performing services for the county fiscal court and courts of justice. The sheriff's office is funded through statutory commissions and fees collected in conjunction with these duties.

The audit report can be found on the auditor's website.
