Harmon Releases Audit of Greenup County Sheriff's Tax Settlement

FRANKFORT, Ky. – State Auditor Mike Harmon today released the audit of the sheriff's settlement – 2020 taxes for Greenup County Sheriff Matt Smith. State law requires the auditor to annually audit the accounts of each county sheriff. In compliance with this law, the auditor issues two sheriff's reports each year: one reporting on the audit of the sheriff's tax account, and the other reporting on the audit of the fee account used to operate the office.

Auditing standards require the auditor's letter to communicate whether the sheriff's settlement presents fairly the taxes charged, credited and paid in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The sheriff's settlement is prepared on the regulatory basis, which is described in the auditor's opinion letter. Regulatory basis reporting for the sheriff's settlement is an acceptable reporting methodology, and this reporting methodology is followed for all 120 sheriff settlements in Kentucky.

The sheriff's financial statement fairly presents the taxes charged, credited and paid for the period May 16, 2020 through April 15, 2021 in conformity with the regulatory basis of accounting.

As part of the audit process, the auditor must comment on noncompliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The auditor must also comment on material weaknesses involving the internal control over financial operations and reporting.

The audit contains the following comment:

The sheriff's office does not have adequate segregation of duties: This is a repeat finding and was included in the prior year audit report as Finding 2019-001. The sheriff's office does not have adequate segregation of duties. The sheriff allowed the bookkeeper to collect taxes, prepare deposits, prepare monthly tax reports, write checks to taxing districts, and reconcile the bank account. There are some reviews of the bookkeeper's work, but not enough documentation of the reviews to determine oversight is in place.

The sheriff has not structured his office in a way that adequately segregates duties among employees and has not provided sufficient oversight of the bookkeeper's work. Inadequate segregation of duties increases the risk of undetected misappropriation of assets or incorrect reporting. Internal controls and proper segregation of duties protects employees in the normal course of performing their daily responsibilities. Good internal controls dictate the same employee should not collect and deposit receipts and also should not process, report, and reconcile disbursements.

We recommend the sheriff's office adequately segregate duties. A proper segregation of duties may not be possible with a limited number of employees, and in that case, the sheriff could take on the responsibility of reviewing the daily deposits, receipts and disbursements ledgers, monthly reports, and bank reconciliations prepared by another employee. These reviews must be documented in a way that indicates what was reviewed, by whom, and when, because signing off on inaccurate information does not provide internal control. The sheriff could also choose to prepare the bank reconciliations and other reports himself.

County Sheriff's Response: The bookkeeper will no longer be collecting taxes at the counter, or making daily checkout sheets or deposits. This duty will be delegated to a different employee. Bank reconciliation will be completed and reviewed by chief deputy.

The sheriff's responsibilities include collecting property taxes, providing law enforcement and performing services for the county fiscal court and courts of justice. The sheriff's office is funded through statutory commissions and fees collected in conjunction with these duties.
