Harmon Releases Audit of Leslie County Clerk's Fee Account

FRANKFORT, Ky. – State Auditor Mike Harmon today released the audit of the 2022 financial statement of Leslie County Clerk Onzie Sizemore. State law requires the auditor to conduct annual audits of county clerks and sheriffs.

Auditing standards require the auditor's letter to communicate whether the financial statement presents fairly the receipts, disbursements and excess fees of the Leslie County Clerk in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The clerk's financial statement did not follow this format. However, the clerk's financial statement is fairly presented in conformity with the regulatory basis of accounting, which is an acceptable reporting methodology. This reporting methodology is followed for all 120 clerk audits in Kentucky.

As part of the audit process, the auditor must comment on noncompliance with laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The auditor must also comment on material weaknesses involving the internal control over financial operations and reporting.

The audit contains the following finding:

The Leslie County Clerk's Office does not have adequate segregation of duties over receipts, disbursements, and the reconciliation process: This is a repeat finding and was included in the prior year audit report as Finding 2021-001. The Leslie County Clerk's Office does not have segregation of duties over receipts, disbursements, and the reconciliation process. Deputies collecting receipts are also responsible for closing out cash drawers and preparing daily checkout sheets and deposits. The deputy who co-signs checks also posts them to the disbursement's ledger, reconciles the bank accounts, and prepares weekly, monthly, and quarterly reports. No documented compensating controls were noted to offset this control deficiency except dual signatures on checks.

According to the county clerk, a lack of segregation of duties existed because a limited number of employees were available to properly segregate job duties. A lack of segregation of duties increases the risk of misappropriation of assets, errors, and inaccurate financial reporting to external agencies such as the taxing districts.

Segregation of duties over receipts, disbursements, and reconciliations or implementation of compensating controls, when needed because the number of staff is limited, is essential for providing protection to employees in the normal course of performing their duties and can also prevent inaccurate financial reporting and misappropriation of assets.

We recommend the county clerk separate duties over receipts, disbursements, and reconciliations. If these duties cannot be separated due to limited staff or limited budget, then strong oversight over those areas should occur and involve the clerk or an employee not currently performing any of those functions. The individual providing this oversight should initial source documents as evidence of review.

County Clerk's Response: The official did not provide a response.

The county clerk's responsibilities include collecting certain taxes, issuing licenses, maintaining county records and providing other services. The clerk's office is funded through statutory fees collected in conjunction with these duties.
